Rajkot-Ahmedabad sixlane work at a snail's pace

Six years passed, 2 bridges and 7 km of tarmac left, deadline extended five times, people not freed from traffic

Rajkot, Children are saying how much is Mama's house... If the lamp is burning... Something similar is happening in the six-lane construction of National Highway (NH) No. 47 connecting Ahmedabad to Rajkot in Gujarat, the deadline has been extended five times in a row. Despite the extension on the extensions, the operation of the six-lane, which started in 2018, has not been completed by early August 2024, even after 6 years. The current situation is expected to be completed by December. It is being claimed that 98% of the ₹3350 crore project has been completed and the work will be completed in the next 3 months, but the reality is that whether the work will be completed even by the end of 2024 is a big question. Even though 6 years have passed, still 2 of the major 6 bridges of this project are yet to be completed. As much as 7 km of asphalt work is still to be done. Also, the design for Hirasar airport has been modified and sent to the government for approval, for which the approval of the government is awaited. NH 47 stretches from Jamnagar in Gujarat via Indore in Madhya Pradesh to Nagpur in Maharashtra. It may be mentioned that the work has started on Sarkhej-Gandhinagar (SG) highway NH 147 connecting Ahmedabad to Gandhinagar upto Sanand Chowk near Karnavati Club, Prahladnagar Junction and YMCA Club. In October 2017, at the hands of Narendra Modi, in the year 2011, the National Highway Authority of India started considering to convert the Rajkot Ahmedabad highway from four lanes to six lanes, connecting Saurashtra's capital Rajkot with Gujarat's economic capital Ahmedabad. After that, this project was sealed by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the month of October 2017. At that time the Chief Minister of Gujarat was Vijay Rupani. After that in the year 2018, the road construction work was started. However, Sixlane is still not ready even after more than 6 years since Khatamuhurat. Today, the

Nephro Care India Ltd sets up a renal care unit at Alipurduar in West Bengal

Ahmedabad, City-based Nephro Care India Ltd (NCIL) has set up a renal care clinic at Alipurduar in West Bengal to cater to the growing demand for advanced diagnostic and pharmacy support for kidney patients in the State. Plans are afoot to take the total number of renal care clinics to 22 by March 2026, of which nine units will be established across the various districts of the State. NCIL, which is a leading multi-speciality healthcare provider in East India, offers a wide range of clinical and lifestyle solutions and renal insufficiency treatment to patients with the treatment framework covering the entire range of lifestyle, physiological and spiritual aspects of wellness. Government estimates suggest, nearly 2,20,000 patients develop ESRD (end stage renal disease) in India, leading to an additional annual dialysis demand of 34 million treatment sessions. However, India presently has nearly 5,000 existing dialysis centres (including 1353 centres under PMNDP). This capacity will not be sufficient to meet the upcoming demand as the disease has been gaining traction due to various sociological, lifestyle and environmental factors, Dr Prathim Sengupta, a senior nephrologist and MD of Nephro Care India, said, highlighting the need for setting up more such centres across the country. NCIL has a vision of reaching out and impacting lives of close to one million patients suffering from chronic kidney disease by setting up 300 such centres across the country in the next 10-15 years. (13-1) project is claimed to be 98% complete and the work will be completed in the next 3 months, but the work is not expected to be completed by the end of December 2024. Agencies fail to meet deadlines Rajkot-Ahmedabad six-lane highway is being given repeated dates by the road construction agency. First of all, this project, which started in the year 2018, was announced to be completed in the year 2020. However, the work could not be completed then and its deadline was extended to 30 June 2023. However, despite this, the work was not completed and another 6 months was given and then a reply was presented in the Assembly House by the Margamkan Department that the work would be completed in March 2024. That is, today one more date is being given as the work is not completed even during this time. Claiming that 98% of the project has been completed, Rajkot-Ahmedabad Six Lane Highway project is being claimed to be completed before Diwali in the next 3 months.
